Hands[®]

fine handmade carpets since 1881

One Love that weaves us together.

It's the story of a world with no boundaries, where distinct local cultures, unique artistic influences, and individuality come alive as one, all under the eternal, common elements of sky and sea.

And it's the story of hope, passion and positivity, an extraordinary testament to the human creative spirit and the power of design.

The One Love Collection

One Love is a unique collection of ten handmade carpets curated by architect Padmini Pandey.

These designs have been brought to life by Hands.

Each piece is hand tufted and takes up to ten weeks to be made.

A brighter future for all.

A part of the proceeds from the collection will go to Project Mala, a special program dedicated to the education of children. The sale of each carpet will sponsor a year in the primary education of one underprivileged child residing in and around the carpet making centres of India.

Lima, Perú

An Architect and Interior Designer by profession, Katia Santillán S. dedicates a large part of her time to academic life. Along with a group of experimental and artistic creation courses, she teaches Interior Design at Universidad Peruana de Ciencias Aplicadas (UPC).

Hands®

Rainbow of Cusco

Having lived in Peru all her life, the intricate system of large and small mountain ranges of the Andes is essential to Katia's identity. Svetlana Selivanova

Moscow, Russia

Svetlana Selivanova is an Interior Designer specialising in living spaces. Her work with Sinta Architects focuses on making the client's home more comfortable while expressing their individual identity.

Russia is a country that sees water more often as ice. Many Russian fairy tales also carry these ice-inspired patterns. It connects the childhoods of all Russians and is a symbol of innocence, hope and dreams.

Hands®

Siberian Frost

The essence of the carpet design is the story of transformation of these ice patterns. They form when water's warmth and the frigid Russian air collide. For Svetlana, it reflects the current world scenario; the beauty of humanity's warm response to challenging situations.

Dear world

I'm here to tell you about a story.
It's the journey of nine friends across the seas.

As they wove me, all that I could feel
Was their unbounded love for the world as one.
As they shaped me, and nurtured me,
I could see in their hearts, their story.

There are no boundaries,
United they are'
By the same sky and seas.

Their hands came together to give me life;
I am their soul, and they are in me.

Be not fooled by my form or shape,
For I'm destined to transcend infinity!

Love is indeed a big word I know,
And I'm here not to seek, but to grow.
Their tree of love,
Whose fruit is for the whole world to eat
The sanctuary, the homeless child's retreat.

One Love is the name they gave me
What else can it be!
After all, when there is only one world,
How many loves do we need!
